

„The Bockholdt ISNM Baltic & Eastern European Scholarship“

Scholarship for future Masters Students in Digital Media From the Baltics and Eastern Europe

The ISNM International School of New Media offers a unique interdisciplinary graduate programme “Master of Science (M.Sc.) in Digital Media” which combines information technology and computer sciences with natural sciences, economics, humanities and the arts, social or applied sciences. Therefore, the programme is open to students with various educational backgrounds coming from various countries. The international programme is entirely conducted in English and places great emphasis on its intercultural education.

Founded in 1959, the Bockholdt-Group thrives to be a competent provider of facility management services in Germany and abroad in countries, such as Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, the Czech Republic and now in St. Petersburg. Besides various corporate citizenship activities, the Bockholdt-Group promotes education and intercultural exchange for students from the above mentioned countries to attend the ISNM with a Bockholdt Scholarship.

Applications for the “Bockholdt Baltic and Eastern European Scholarship” are expected from graduates who come from one of the above countries, have obtained a first study degree (min. B.A. of 3 - 4 years) with an excellent academic performance and meet ISNM’s admission prerequisites (see our homepage at www.isnm.de for further info). Some knowledge of German and professional work experience is desirable but not a requirement. The application for the scholarship has to be made with or after the general application for admission at ISNM. Deadline for 2006 is August 31, 2006. In case that more than one applicant is eligible, ISNM will secure alternative funding.

The final decision on the scholarship award is taken by the awarding committee consisting of Hans-Jürgen Bockholdt, General Manager of the Bockholdt Group, the Academic Director, and the Managing Director of ISNM by September 15, 2006, at the latest.

The scholarship covers the following costs for the full programme of studies, i.e. 24 months:

- EUR 2000,- of the one-time enrolment fee
- full monthly tuition EUR 668,33
- a monthly allowance to the cost of living & insurance expenses EUR 300,- in return for 30 hours working with Bockholdt in Lübeck

In addition, the scholarship recipient is offered the possibility for an internship with an enterprise of the Bockholdt-Group and is invited to write her/his master thesis about a project or research topic related to one of the actual issues in the various fields of Bockholdt activities, if it matches both the scholarship recipient’s and Bockholdt’s interests.

The Master of Science in Digital Media study programme begins on October 1, 2006. The Scholarship is only awarded upon admission to and beginning of studies at the ISNM.
